President's Message

Dear Members, Supporters, Donors, Our Board, Our Staff and Our Community,

I am honored to have been asked by the Board of JHS to be President, to be working with Estelle, and to try to build on the great accomplishments of Sandy H. Rulnick, our most recent president. I am also very excited to be joined on the board by new Board members Rebecca Selig, Alan Berkowitz, Michael Fishman and Gary Jones. I know they will be welcomed by our generous and existing board members and help generate new ideas and awareness throughout our community, resulting in a stronger organization and foundation for the future.

Our major focus for this Fall is the 45th Anniversary Gala on Sunday, October 30, 2016 at 6:00 pm at the Emanuel Synagogue. The highlighted motivational speaker, Louis Ferrante, was an Italian member of the Gambino Family who converted to Judaism. I know you will be mesmerized by his fascinating and courageous story. As this JHS fundraising event only occurs every five years, we really need your support and participation to make this a successful night.

How many of you regret not asking a loved one (parent, grandparent or great grandparent) about where they came from, how they started their businesses, special recipes, their challenges and their successes? I hear these regrets so often with so many families. The Society's mission is to secure those unique family histories and important stories for future generations with labeled photographs, documents, oral and written records. If in doubt, please ask Estelle and our hard working staff before discarding any memorabilia or for assistance in documenting your family memories.

This year, thanks to a grant from the Jewish Community Foundation and a generous donation from Jeffrey Hoffman, we will initiate a Family History Project, training Jewish educators in local religious schools to teach our children how to record and preserve their family's history. This opportunity to help forge bonds and promote appreciation and awareness between many generations will be inspiring. As Rabbi Philip Lazowski has said "If you continue to love the one you lose, you never lose the one you love." Let us help keep that love alive for you, your family, future generations and our community by securing their memories and stories.

On behalf of our Board, I want to wish our generous supporters and all of our community a Happy, Healthy and Wealthy New Year. I look forward to seeing all of you on October 30th at our Gala.

Gary R. Schwartz
President

New Book: *Jewish Community of Hartford

On Wednesday, September 14 at 7:00pm, the Jewish Historical Society will launch their new pictorial history volume, Jewish Community of Hartford, part of the Images of America series, Arcadia Publishing. The archival images and expanded captions were compiled by the Society staff and volunteers. The book highlights some of the people, organizations and institutions that have helped to shape this remarkable community. Included are interesting facts about notables such as Sophie Tucker, Norman Lear, Sol LeWitt, Kid Kaplan and many more. The evening will also feature a number of storytellers presenting their most compelling Hartford stories.

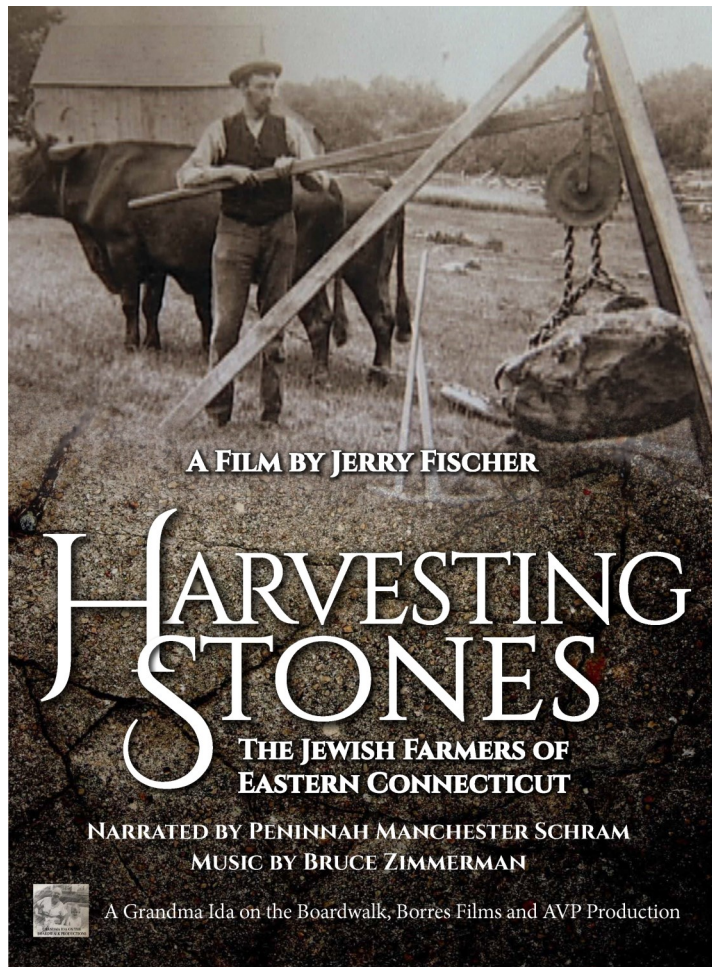

JHSGH is dedicated to the preservation and documentation of Jewish life in Greater Hartford. Through exhibitions, publications and educational programming, the organization promotes research and creates community awareness of the numerous Jewish contributions to the area.

The Images of America series celebrates the history of neighborhoods, towns and cities across the country. Using archival photographs, each title presents the distinctive stories from the past that shape the character of the community today.

This event is free and open to the public. It will be held at B'nai Tikvoh-Sholom, 180 Still Road, Bloomfield CT. Books will be discounted on this evening ONLY. After September 14, books may be purchased at the Society office or online at www.jhsg.org.

This past July, JHS took its third trip to Eastern Europe, led by Professor Samuel Kassow. The group visited Budapest, Prague, Krakow and Warsaw and saw sites of great beauty and profound sadness. While in Warsaw, Dr. Kassow took participants to visit the Jewish Historical Institute, which houses the Jewish Genealogy and Family Heritage Center. Three young researchers there spoke about their work searching and collecting records and other documentation about the Jews of Poland, and offering to assist anyone who wished to learn more about their family’s background. Their services are free, but they do request a donation to help fund the organization. For more information, contact the Institute at: familyheritage@jhi.pl.

Family History on the Road Oral History Project

The Society has received a grant from the Jewish Community Foundation and a generous donation from Jeffrey Hoffman to embark on an exciting new project entitled “Family History on the Road.” The Society will provide the necessary tools and training for Jewish educators in area synagogues and day schools to teach students how to conduct and document their family history. Last month, two consultants from the Jewish Women’s Archive, Brookline, MA, came to present an oral history workshop to educators from The Emanuel Synagogue, Congregation Beth Israel, Farmington Valley Jewish Congregation-Emek Shalom, Beth El Temple, Hebrew High School of New England, and JT Connect. A curriculum and handbook guide for teachers and students will be developed. Michaellee Merritt, project coordinator, will work closely with the educators, guiding them through the process. This first year will be a pilot phase with 5-6 institutions committed to introducing the program in the late fall. Hopefully, we expect the project to grow in scope and number as time progresses. We are very excited to announce that the Family History Collection Hoffman Archive will be the JHS repository for the documented family histories that the students will collect. We have inspiring goals for Family History on the Road - promoting family and generational continuity, learning the importance of preserving family stories for future generations and connecting past and present life experiences - valuable lessons for the students and their families.

“The 1843 Petition for Jewish Religious Equality”

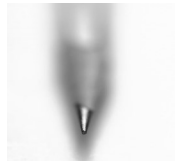

A Talk by Mary M. Donohue

Friday, September 9th
7:30 pm

Congregation Beth Israel
701 Farmington Ave.
West Hartford, CT

Connecticut’s State Constitution of 1818 deliberately excluded Jewish congregations. Mary M. Donohue, Assistant Publisher for Connecticut Explored magazine, will explain the Jewish community’s 1843 petition to the Connecticut General Assembly for full religious equality, as they fought for the right to own property and build synagogues.

From the Director

Dear Friends,

I hope your summer was relaxing and enjoyable. Hopefully, you had a chance to stop by the John Meyer Exhibit at the Mandell JCC Gallery. Listening to visitor's happy memories of wearing these favorite 60's fashions was very rewarding! We greatly appreciate the Norwich Slater Memorial Museum loaning us this exhibit.

This past June, the Society experienced some changes, bringing new faces to the office and organization. Bea Brodie, project manager for ten years, retired. Bea skillfully and efficiently handled numerous administrative details with dedication and compassion and I am very grateful for her invaluable support and friendship throughout the years. We are delighted that Lynn Newman, former Renbrook School librarian for 29 years, has joined us as the new project administrator. Our archivist, Sara Hawran, also left in May to accept a full-time position at the National Archives in College Park, Maryland. We are happy to announce that Jeanne Lowrey, a Society intern experienced with our database, has taken on the position. Our extremely committed and supportive president, Sandra Rulnick, has handed over her fob and files to our new president, Gary Schwartz. I look forward to working with Gary and our new Board members, Alan Berkowitz, Michael Fishman, Gary Jones and Rebecca Selig.

With the upcoming volume "Jewish Community of Hartford" coming out in a few weeks, as well as working on exciting and innovative programs, such as the 45th Anniversary Gala, the Society staff is keeping busy! We look forward to seeing you at the Gala on October 30, an evening you won't want to miss! Co-chairs Abbey Kreinik and Sandra Rulnick, along with a stellar committee have been working hard with many fabulous details. Please invite your friends and family, forward our e-blasts and website information. We count on and appreciate your support to sustain the organization and ensure the history of OUR community is preserved for the future!

Wishing you a very Happy and Healthy New Year! LaShana Tova!

From the Archivist

Dear Friends,

I was thrilled to step into the role of archivist this May. As some of you may know, I have been interning here at the Society since August of 2014, entering information into our collection database to help facilitate searching. I have loved getting to know the Greater Hartford Jewish Community as I've worked with our collections, and I look forward to continuing to learn as I settle into this new role.

We have received quite a few new acquisitions in the past few months. Debra Wilder brought us a box of wonderful material from the Emanuel Young People's League that were collected by her mother, Sylvia B. Eisenberg. Helen Weisel donated a scrapbook of religious school activities, also at the Emanuel, that had been given to her husband Alfred by Rabbi Morris Silverman, and Gloria Bein gave us a box with the ashes from a mortgage burning ceremony at the Emanuel! Sue Bergen dropped off scrapbook pages documenting the affairs of the Women's League for Conservative Judaism and Gail Zieky Karasik donated a photograph of the founders of Agudas Achim. Dr. Louis Brown gave us the transcript from an 1980 interview with Rabbi Hans Bodenheimer from a Holocaust Survivors project at the University of Connecticut. Craig Banks added to his family's papers with documentation of his relatives' war service. Helga Allweiss brought in various program books for graduations and dinners from the Hebrew Academy, Hebrew High School, and Chabad. We've also received several more video interviews with area Holocaust Survivors. Thank you so much for these documents, and keep them coming!

I have also been responding to a wide variety of reference requests, a number of which involved the historic farms documented in our collection. Several researchers have also come into the office to work. This steady stream is proof that people are learning about the Society as a resource and are taking advantage of our unique collections, which are available for research by appointment. If you are interested in donating your own materials, please let us know! We would be glad to preserve your family's history.

Take care! Hope to meet you soon!

Jeanne

MEET OUR NEW ARCHIVIST: JEANNE LOWREY

Jeanne had a love of history from an early age. Her first taste of archival work came while volunteering at the Burlington [CT] Local History Room during high school. She attended Smith College, majoring in American Studies and completing an Archives Concentration. She has interned at the Center for Folklife and Cultural Heritage at the Smithsonian in Washington D.C., and worked at the Smith College Archives for two years. Jeanne joined JHSGH shortly after graduation, and is currently working towards a master's degree from Simmons College in Library & Information Science, focusing on Archival Management.

Jeanne is particularly passionate about preserving the stories and records of groups often overlooked or undervalued in mainstream society. She is thrilled that JHSGH exists to help fill in some of the gaps, and would love to help expand the collection's reach throughout the Greater Hartford region to capture the diversity of Jewish experience of the area.

You can reach Jeanne at 860-727-6173 or jlowrey@jewishhartford.org.
